

London, June 24th, 2019

Following on from the conference we organized in December 2015, we had pleasure in chairing a firechat discussion with John Studzinski CBE, Vice Chairman of PIMCO, at the House of Lords.

Lord Alderdice had invited us to organize and chair the event, and many senior individuals from the financial services industry were in attendance and contributed to the debate on Catholicism and Finance by asking questions and sharing their thoughts about ethics in our industry.

St. Benet's Institute, Oxford, kindly included this conference as part of their overall reflection on Catholicism and public life.

We look forward to contributing further to this debate by including other religions and continuing this series of conferences.
