

New York, June 6th, 2018

Today we participated in a roundtable at the initiative of the French Government, aiming to discuss Europe's attractiveness to US fund managers post-Brexit.

Christian Noyer, formerly Governor of the French Central Bank, hosted the meeting, at the New York office of the French Treasury.

The discussion, which Bougeville Consulting coordinated, was lively and productive. We had invited a number of fund managers who either already have a presence in Europe or are planning to have one in the near future.

Part of our job is to assist US fund managers in establishing or maintaining a presence in Europe, and in navigating the regulatory landscape in the context of an evolving political climate.

Thank you to all the participants, from the French government and fund management industry alike.
