Today we gave a guest lecture for the students of the Program on Financial Stability at Yale School of Management. Students came from all over the world, from Mexico to Malaysia, and attended on Zoom, at a time that was suitable to all.

We explored, from a practitioner's perspective, regulatory practice in Europe especially, and compared and contrasted it with what exists in other regions in the world.

Thank you, Yale, for inviting me and for the great contributions and questions throughout the presentation. Good luck to the new students!
